

Emergency Help for Animals

The Massachusetts Veterinary Medical Association MVMA has raised funds and awareness for pet health safety. The MVMA has donated a set of emergency oxygen masks to communities interested in working together for both humans and animals. The donated masks will fit dogs, cats, horses and other animals in cases where they need oxygen in an emergency.

Pictured above is Hopkinton Deputy Chief Stephen Slaman, receiving the masks on behalf of the Hopkinton Fire Department from Veterinarian Dr. Margo Roman of MASH - Main Street Animal Services of Hopkinton, and Lili-Hana and Geneva.

Click Here for Holliston Reporter

Local Reporting
by Local People

HOPKINTON
Wine & Spirits

THE WINE CREDIT... A SPECIALTY FOOD

508-435-1292

DAVIES WEALTH MANAGEMENT STRATEGIES

800-648-1000

the Dentist at Hopkinton

BAYSTATE FINANCIAL SERVICES

College Funding
Retirement Funding &
Estate Conservation

Insurance
Life & Disability Income
Long Term Care
Janice A. Bogasky,
Financial Representative 781-788-4853

